A Step Up Awaits the Person Ready for It

When something holds one back, the cause is often found to be an unsuspected habit—such as ten or coffee drinking.

Caffeine, the drug in ten and coifee, interferes with digestion; has a destructive effect on nervea and brain and causes various ills which handleap one's physical and mental power.

If this is found true in your case, the thing to do is to quit the cause—tea or coffee—and shift to

It is a palatable beverage made of wheat and contains rich food elements—including the natural Phosphate of Potash, especially required for rebuilding the tissue cells of nerves and brain.

in the world is to sell goods—provided you guarantee two conditions. 1st—That the goods be of standard quality, well made, and of the latest style. 2nd—That the price asked is lower than the goods can be bugith for under ordinary circumstances. These for under ordinary circumstances. These two conditions are now in evidence at the sale of and the result is just what was expected. Thousands are daily taking advantage of the big reduction in prices on every article of men's wear. Without a doubt the busiest store in the city today is LYONS'. We don't ask you to take our word, but we do invite you to vist the store and examine the goods. Judge them on their merits. Compare prices and values, and you will be satisfied that what we say is correct.

Lowering the Cost

R EDUCED to its simplest terms, the price of an article is the cost of material, labor of manufacture, transportation, distribution, sale, and delivery—plus a profit on each of these.

Let us take the case of a fountain pen to show what price is.

First, the materials must be pro-duced—the rubber in Para—the gold in South Africa or the Yukon—iridium in Siberia.

Then all these must be transported to the factory. There the rubber is vulcanized into holders: the gold refined and stamped into points; the irdium tipped on to the gold; and so on.

The labor operations on a fountain pen run well over the hundred mark, and expensive machinery is required for almost every one of them.

Manufacturing completed, the pens are sold to jobbers and retailers— transported hundreds and thousands of miles. And profits are taken at every step, remember that.

pleted, and the pen at last put to its destined use.

Suppose you have paid $2.50 for one of the standard well-known fountain pens. Do you begin to realize what an imposing number of things that $2.50 has paid for Haven't you a "pretty clear idea that, if these operations were applied to the making of one single pen, it would break an old magnate to buy it?

Is it not perfectly plain that Quantity controls price by one of the simplest of natural laws?

Para rubber by the shipload—gold and iridium by pounds instead of milligrammes—labor of thousands organized and directed—transportation in ear lots—and sales by the million—to every schoolkoy, stenographer, business man—to every one wito writes.

It is all this gigantic expenditure, divided by the countless units of millions of sales, that makes it possible to buy a fountain pen for $2.50. The more sales, the smaller becomes the cost of the unit.

We know that Advertising has raised Quality.

We know it has standardized prices.

And now we see that Advertising increases sales, shortens the road between producer and consumer and lowers prices.
